Mental Patient Is Picked Up In Oklahoma

To Be Questioned In Connection With His Mother's Death

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Police said Bobby Joe Burns, 28-year-old former mental patient, today admitted the killing and decapitation of his mother.

Burns was charged with first degree murder in an information filed by Prosecuting Attorney James A. Gutensohn.

Circuit Judge Paul Wolfe immediately issued an order committing Burns to State Hospital at Little Rock for a sanity examination.

The prosecutor and police officers quoted Burns, arrested in Oklahoma earlier today, as saying that he killed his mother at their home yesterday and then took the head to a Catholic church to be "blessed by the priest."

Burns said he is not a Catholic. Nor was his mother, officers said. The officers quoted him as saying he left a note to the priest asking for the blessing.

Police Chief Herbert Brock said Burns made a statement containing references to religious ritualism, including that of the ancient Aztecs, but gave no clear-cut reason for killing his mother.

A cardboard box containing the head of Mrs. Edna Burns, 58, was found by a group of children in the vestibule of a Fort Smith church yesterday. Police broke into the woman's locked house and found her headless body.

Under Sheriff Howard Watts of Sequoyah County, Okla., spotted Burns walking along U.S. Highway 64 about 3½ miles west of Fort Smith.

Watts said he asked Burns if he wanted a ride. Burns willingly climbed into the car. Watts drove here and turned him over to Fort Smith officers.

Burns "didn't say anything and I didn't ask him anything," Watts reported.

Police issued a pick-up order for Burns shortly after his mother's slaying was discovered.

Fort Smith Chief of Detectives Clyde Grigsby said the son was released from a mental hospital last year.

Judge Arranges Monitor System To Watch Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal district judge arranged today to launch a novel monitor system to watch over James R. Hoffa's activities as president of the giant Teamsters Union.

The plan already has been approved by Judge F. Dickinson Letts as the compromise settlement of a lawsuit, and the jurist will sign necessary papers and name the monitors today.

The lawsuit, being dropped under the compromise, was filed by 13 Teamsters members from New York who sought to prevent Hoffa from taking over as union president. They contended his election at the union's Miami Beach convention last October was rigged.

Under the settlement, Hoffa was allowed to take over the presidency of the 1,400,000-member truckers union, the nation's largest labor organization, but with three monitors to advise him on democratic procedures and union fund safeguards.

Hoffa is not bound to take advice from the monitors, but has said he will give "serious consideration" to their views. The union's officers agreed to handle union money and property as legal trustees and to avoid any business ties that might compromise their union functions.

Under the plan the union will name one of the three monitors and the plaintiffs in the suit a second. Together, the plaintiffs and the union will name the third or, if they cannot agree on one, Judge Letts will name the third, who will be chairman of the watchdog group.

Reuther Proposal

Public Should Be Consulted On Proposed Price Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Reuther urged today that Congress require large corporations to justify their price increases in advance before a special government agency. An independent consumers council would represent the public.

The United Automobile Workers president said that such an agency should not have powers to block the price boosts but should be able to lay all the facts before the public.

Reuther made the proposal at the opening session of a hearing on auto prices before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Auto company presidents are to appear later.

The series of hearings is a part of a broad study of administered prices in major industries which the subcommittee began last year.

Administered prices are those set by a company, rather than fluctuating on the basis of supply and demand.

Kefauver said in a statement prepared for the hearing that the automobile industry is the nation's "greatest single direct source of jobs and purchasing power."

He said the subcommittee had been disturbed by a "decline in automobile production and employment... accompanied by an increase in automobile prices."

Reuther's views were contained in a 110-page statement, accompanied by 29 tables, which he said he would offer for the record. He planned to testify extemporaneously.

His statement repeated the UAW's frequently stated views that increased labor costs have not been responsible for increased car prices since the end of World War II and that the profits of the automobile corporations have been exorbitant.

One effect of the public review would be to determine impartially what effect union wage demands may have in forcing price increases, Reuther indicated.

He contended that "price increases imposed by the automobile corporations have been upped $5 for every $1 gained in wage increases" in the last 12 years.

Reuther said the independent consumers council would have authority to intervene on behalf of the public before not only the proposed price agency but also other government agencies whose actions affect the public interest.

The price agency plan as proposed, Reuther said, would apply only to a corporation which controls 20 or 25 per cent of the sales in its industry.

In the auto industry, this would mean that General Motors and Ford certainly would be covered and Chrysler, third-ranking producer, probably would be included.

Support Won by Junta

Civilian Group Has Issued Manifesto Stating Confidence In New Government

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's ruling junta won the support today of the civilian group that sparked the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The civilian "Patriotic Junta" issued a new manifesto declaring it had confidence in the national unity and was fully backing the new regime.

Order was being restored quickly. Only a few scattered rifle shots were heard in the capital last night.

The armed forces earlier promised their all-out support. The pledge was delivered to the junta president, Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, last night as the new regime made progress in bringing order out of the turmoil that followed the ouster of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Defense Minister Jesus Maria Castro Leon told Larrazabal the armed forces were "united in the most absolute form in their decision to support absolutely the present government." Larrazabal declared the pledge gave his five-man group the needed power to ensure peace again.

Larrazabal said earlier he expected the United States would recognize his regime soon because "we are good brothers."

One ticklish issue was cleaned up with the departure of former Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron for the Dominican Embassy when the revolt erupted, hastily decided to leave after armed bands fired twice on the embassy. The junta supplied a plane for his trip. On arrival in Ciudad Trujillo, Peron said he would leave soon for Europe by ship, to "get some rest."

Junta sources said peace had been restored in 95 per cent of the country. Threats of a counter-revolt by followers of the ousted dictator apparently were disappearing. But vigilante teams and junta raiders still scoured outlying cities and towns, rounding up scores of former secret police and informers. Dozens of others were killed or wounded while trying to flee.

The junta also launched an investigation of the former regime's operations. Larrazabal said a commission had been appointed to look into financial dealings of the former dictator, said by presidential palace sources to have had nearly 250 million dollars cached abroad.

In another report reminiscent of charges made against Peron after he was thrown out of Argentina, a naval investigating commission said Perez Jimenez had held "baccchanalian revelries" at a three-million-dollar pleasure palace on an island 100 miles northeast of Caracas. The report said the former president got drunk, dashed about on a motor scooter and chased women on the beach.

The operation was begun at 8:30 a.m., five hours after the shuddering mishap in which the catcher's car skidded, overturned and crashed into a telephone pole on a dangerous "S" curve about half a mile from his home here.

Campanella was returning home alone from a television appearance in New York City. Glen Cove is on Long Island, about 30 miles from the metropolis.

Though listed as in critical condition, Campanella was conscious and reported in good spirits by his wife before the surgery.

There was possibility that the 36-year-old Negro catcher's impressive career may have been ended by the injury.

It was the worst in a long series of injuries and ailments which had beset him since he began play with the Dodgers 10 years ago.

Despite repeated benchings, he had managed to win the National League's Most Valuable Player award three different years. He also became the highest-priced Dodger in history when he received a 1956 contract for $42,000.

Campanella calmly discussed the situation with doctors before the operation began.

Program Listed For Concert Thursday Night

One of the largest audiences in several seasons is expected to attend the second concert of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra Thursday at the Smith-Cotton Auditorium, starting at 8:15 p.m. The second concert of the year by Abe Rosenthal.

Much interest this week has been shown by patrons of the concert for the guest artists, the Mitchell-Ruff Duo, which will appear with the local symphony.

Dwight Mitchell, pianist, and Willie Ruff, who plays the French horn and bass, are on a national concert tour.

The Mitchell-Ruff Duo, although features the classics, will bring here to Sedalia something new in the way of jazz interpretations as such composers as Bach, Scarlatti and Beethoven. Both Mitchell and Ruff were formerly members of the Lionel Hampton dance orchestra. These artists, however, have appeared with various symphonies in musical education.

The guest artists advised officers of the local symphony here this week that they will not announce their program prior to the concert as they prefer to wait until they come to Sedalia and arrange their numbers to suit the individual locale.

Rosenthal announced his program here today as follows:

1. "The Merry Wives of Windsor" Overture, Otto Nicolai.

2. To be announced.

3. "Ballet Egyptian", suite, Alexandre Luigni.

4. Intermission.

5. "Finlandia", tone poem, Si-bellius.

6. "A Tribute to Rombert", music by Sigmund Rombert.

Campanella Injures Neck In Accident

Surgeons in Effort To Relieve Pinch Of the Spinal Cord

Bulletin

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—Roy Campanella, one of baseball's top stars for a decade, broke his neck early today in a car crash here. A subsequent operation was termed successful and was expected to halt paralysis which had seized him from the chest down.

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Baseball star Roy Campanella, the doughty but injury-bedecked Dodger catcher, fractured his neck in an automobile crash here early today.

Several hours later an operation was begun but there was no immediate report on its progress.

A team of seven surgeons sought to relieve a pinch of the spinal cord which caused almost complete paralysis of Campanella's body. The surgery also was expected to show whether any permanent injury had been suffered.

Strategy Plan Gets Approval

Project Will Cost Billions Over Period of Many Years

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The Baghdad Pact Council of Ministers today approved long-term plans for a strategic system of roads, ports, airfields and radio communications. If carried out, the project will cost billions of dollars over a period of several years.

The five-nation conference—with Secretary of State Dulles sitting as an American observer—okayed the plan in approving the report of the pact's military committee.

Other aspects of the committee's report were not immediately disclosed.

Informed sources said the group was moving, however, toward turning the military planning group into a full-blown unified command. An Iranian move last year to set up a NATO-type command failed to go through because of proposals that Iran's King Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi become the supreme commander.

The conference continued a survey of the Middle East political scene. Conference sources reported there was no unanimous support for Iraq's demand for a definition of its policy toward a Palestine settlement.

Premier Nuri Said of Iraq pressed the council to support Arab demands that Israel be forced back to the frontiers suggested by the United Nations in 1947.

The secret parts of the military committee's report were believed to have recommended:

1. That any major assault from the north must be met as far as possible in the craggy mountain passes between Russia and Turkey, Iraq and Iran.

2. National forces of the regional Moslem members, who also include Pakistan, must be developed and modernized although not necessarily with nuclear weapons.

3. The United States and Britain, the other two participating nations, will speed supply of conventional arms which may become surplus to needs of their own forces—including warships, fighter planes, radar warning equipment, antiaircraft missiles and tanks.

The military planners already have agreed on the broad strategic lines of Middle Eastern defense now that the United States has assumed a firm commitment to join in repulsing any attack from the north.

That commitment was reaffirmed by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, who told the opening session of the conference the alliance "can be confident that mobile power of great force would as needed be brought to bear against any Communist aggressor."

McElroy Asks Appropriation Of New Funds

Was Lead Witness In Closed Session On Emergency Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy told senators today that "on the whole our military position is sound." He also urged speedy appropriation of more than a billion dollars to step up programs for ballistic missiles and related defenses.

McElroy was leadoff witness in a closed-door session of the Senate Appropriations Committee on an emergency money bill containing 1½ billion dollars of new funds plus transfer authority on 150 million of old funds.

The measure won unanimous passage in the House last Thursday and is expected to get similar Senate treatment, possibly with some additions.

Front Street Replica Shown in Dodge City

DODGE CITY, Kan. (AP)—Dodge City unveiled the replica of its old-time Front Street yesterday with a little extra punch in the ceremony.

Hugh O'Brian, the Wyatt Earp of television and the star of yesterday's program here, got stepped on by a horse, and left him temporarily lame.

Front Street is a block of business buildings that look like the ones of the 1870s when Dodge City was a lively cowtown.

Recognition Is Intended

Local Nurses Group Is Seeking Complete Roster of Profession

To become a registered nurse takes three years of training after which there must be state board examinations that last for three full days. When that examination is passed the graduate nurse becomes a registered nurse.

Today there are many women who have worked hard to become registered nurses, then left that profession to become homemakers or for other reasons. The American Nurses Association feels that these women and the wonderful work they have done should not be forgotten. That is why a campaign is now on to list all of those who have at some time been registered nurses, and to recognize them in some manner.

The 10th District Missouri Nurses Association is joining in the campaign to list women who have been registered nurses but who now are not following the profession. Any woman, who is now, or has ever been in the profession as a registered nurse is asked to get her name listed with Mrs. Beth Janes, Bothwell Memorial Hospital, as a complete roll of all registered nurses is desired.

The American Nurses Association is one of the largest professional organizations in the country, created by nurses in 1896, with programs designed to improve nursing practice, provide better nursing care for all people and benefits for all nurses.

Through the ANA laws are promoted which will improve the nursing practice, and the ANA maintains a representative in the nation's capital. Its most recent achievements in this area have been federal scholarships for graduate nurses, commissions in the nurse corps for men nurses, licensure of registered nurses in all states and practical nurses in

Special Services Featured In Newest Banking Facilities

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—"Women and children first" is the slogan today of a growing sector of the banking fraternity.

Wooing their friendship and business has wrought changes in banking architecture both inside and out. It plays a part in locating new banking offices throughout the suburbs and particularly in shopping centers.

To please women customers and some small fry depositors too, the banks are offering special services and facilities. There are fashion shows and seminars on family finance, afternoon teas and such giveaways as jars of honey, flower seeds or potted plants.

Bankers have found that women, often with youngsters in tow, do an increasing share of the family's banking business. Competition for their business has hastened the changes away from the austere dignity of prewar years.

The American Bankers Assn. found in a survey of the public's banking habits and crotchets that today the housewife pays more family bills than her husband, often plays a top role in family budgeting, and enters the bank as often as her spouse. He tops her on going to the bank to put money in. She outstrips him in going to the bank to take it out.

Banks now compete with the most modern department stores and specialty shops in interior decorating. Comfortable chairs, lively murals, flower boxes and piped in music sometimes startle the old-timers.

The First National Bank of St. Louis offers safe deposit boxes in chateaux, turquoise, citron yellow, fawn grey, desert tan and shocking pink. A Philadelphia bank decks out both its passbooks and its tellers in a duncan plaid.

The Philadelphia national bank opened its Conshohocken office with a garden party to show off its landscaping.

The Bank of New York's new 5th Avenue office has a generally modernistic decor, but its gold room is richly decked out in classical style as a retiring room for women to prepare deposit slips, clip coupons, meet one another in town, or maybe just rest their feet.

A woman vice president presides over it from an adjoining alcove.

Some banks provide high chairs in which to deposit junior while making out bank deposit slips.

Some have sections equipped with playpens, child-sized furniture, picture books, building blocks, jigsaw puzzles, dolls and free lollypops. You guessed it—these are usually located in the safe deposit department.

There are banks with baby carriage parking lots, or walk-up windows for mothers with carriages in tow so that they don't have to enter the building.

And some, like the First National Bank in Geneva, Ill., have a hydraulic lift to boost junior depositors up to the window.

Banks weren't like that when grandma was a girl.

Couple Foiled at Home Finally Wed in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Tessa Kennedy and Dominic Elwes, the young British couple who were foiled by her father in efforts to marry in Britain, finally were wed here last night, a Cuban notary public said.

Notary Oscar Rangel said he secretly married the 19-year-old runaway heiress and the 26-year-old son of a society painter at his downtown office. He refused to give any details.

Other sources said the young lovers planned to remain in Cuba for some time. They flew from Curacao Sunday night and remained in seclusion.

How the two got around a required two-week marriage waiting period was not immediately explained. Some persons speculated they had posted official notice of intention in advance of their arrival here.

Tessa's father, a sugar magnate, obtained court writs two months ago preventing their marriage in England or Scotland without his consent. After hiding in Scotland, they flew to the Caribbean last week.

Couple Sought After Bodies Are Found

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In shabby outbuildings behind a small home on the door of which was a hand-printed sign warning visitors to "stay away" the bodies of a father, his wife and their 2-year-old daughter were found last night.

Marion Bartlett, 57, and his wife Velda, 36, had been shot in the head. Their child apparently had died of a skull fracture. All three bodies bore lacerations that examining physicians said could be stab wounds. There was no report on the time of the deaths.

A general alarm was out for Carol Fugate, 15, a daughter of Mrs. Bartlett by a former marriage, and Charles Starkweather, 19, a friend of Carol. Carol, who lived at the Bartlett home, and her friend were believed to have left Lincoln headed south in a black car.

When Robert von Busch, whose wife is a daughter of Mrs. Bartlett, and Rodney Starkweather, brother of Charles, arrived at the modest home for a visit, they found a hand-printed sign on the door.

It said, "Stay away. Everybody is sick with the flu."

Von Busch knocked. He received no answer. Then he went around the house to a chicken coop, thinking someone might be there. He found the body of Bartlett, wrapped in paper.

Next he peeked into an out-house a few feet away. There he saw the body of Mrs. Bartlett, wrapped in rags. He ran to a nearby house to telephone police. Searching officers discovered the body of Betty Jean, stuffed in a cardboard box that was stacked in the building with other cartons.

Police revealed that yesterday morning Mrs. Pansy Street, mother of Mrs. Bartlett, had gone to the house to visit but had been refused admission by Carol. Mrs. Street, fearful that something was wrong, told police of the rebuff.

Two detectives went with her to the Bartlett home. They found the door locked and then entered the place through a window. But they found no indication of violence within the house and the three left. There was no sign on the door then.

Bartlett was a night watchman and had not reported for work since his employer was informed by a telephone call that he was ill.

Robbery Trial Moved To Saline County

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—An Ohio convict has had his first degree robbery trial transferred from Lafayette to Saline County on a change of venue.

Circuit Judge Phil Cook yesterday granted the change for James R. Esson, who is accused in the beating, robbing and kidnapping of an airman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Wagner, last August.

Esson, an escapee from the Ohio prison, claimed he couldn't get a fair trial here. Saline County is in Judge Cook's district so he may still hear the case.

Snow and Rain Plague Hits Nation Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow and rain again plagued much of the nation today with the Northeast quarter of the country getting a January dousing for the third straight day.

In the vast area from Minnesota and Iowa eastward, there was light snow. At the eastern edge of the bad weather—the Atlantic Coast—rain fell.

The greater Boston area reported flooding as two rivers—the Neponset and the Charles—went out of their banks. Both were at flood stage with the Neponset expected to rise two feet over flood stage and the Charles three feet over flood stage.

FIGHTS POISON IVY—Even if spring is far away, thousands of poison ivy sufferers can look forward to its coming without any sense of dread. Dr. Charles R. Dawson, above, a chemistry professor at Columbia University, seems to have found an effective weapon against poison ivy. The weapon is a chemical compound "made" in Dawson's laboratory at the university. Tests of the compound, which is injected under the skin of the arm, gave summer-long immunity to persons who had been highly sensitive to poison ivy.

Under New Agreement

From 500 to 2,000 Russians Will Visit US Next 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anywhere from 500 to 2,000 Soviet tourists, scientists, wrestlers and what-have-you will be visiting the United States during the next two years under a monumental U.S.-Soviet exchanges agreement.

The accord, signed yesterday at the State Department by Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin and U. S. negotiator William S. B. Lacy was hailed on all sides as a possible thawing trend in the cold war.

President Eisenhower welcomed it and, in a statement, expressed hope that its carrying-out might "contribute substantially to the betterment of relations between the two countries, thereby also contributing to a lessening of international tensions."

Zarubin called it the most important achievement of his five years here as Soviet ambassador. He says tomorrow for Moscow, reportedly to become a deputy foreign minister.

Capitol Hill was full of praise. Chairman Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it might prove the alternative to "development of the instruments of war." Senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) similarly applauded.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union got everything it wanted.

The United States had to settle for a half-measure on exchanging radio-television broadcasts. But officials said they were content with that because it showed the Soviets are willing to move, however cautiously, toward easing the Iron Curtain.

Agreement was reached to have sporadic censored radio-TV broadcasts on current events, with each side holding a veto over what could not be used.

Another U. S. disappointment was Soviet refusal to agree to quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts to the Soviet Union in the Russian language.

On the other hand, the Russians wanted a direct New York-Moscow air service so they could show off their sleek new TU104 jetliner. The United States demurred, pending, officials confided, the time when the United States also will have sleek new jetliners in service on commercial airlines.

Must Share Atomic Data, Says Durham

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Durham (D-NC) of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee said today Congress must approve the sharing of U. S. nuclear secrets with allies "if we expect NATO to stay together."

He promised speedy handling for President Eisenhower's proposals for sharing atomic data with friendly nations, and predicted congressional passage of the plan—but not without a fight.

"There is not much else we can do now," Durham said. "We have got to go along if we expect NATO to stay together and work with us."

The joint committee received Atomic Energy Commission recommendations for amending the Atomic Energy Act in line with Eisenhower's plans for making available to allies nuclear information, raw materials and weapons components—but not complete weapons.

Durham said he was impressed during a trip to Europe last summer by the extent to which neutralist sentiment had spread even in the NATO countries, and by the need for vigorous action to renew enthusiasm for the Atlantic Alliance.

"It ought to be made clear that this is not a proposal to give things away," Durham said. "It is a question whether we will cooperate with our own allies and make considerable savings by doing it."

The proposed amendments would give the President discretion to turn over weapons data to allies whenever he determined "that the proposed cooperation and the communication of the proposed restricted data will promote and will not constitute an unreasonable risk to the common defense and security."

The amendments also would provide for transfer of atomic materials to allies without the present restriction that such materials may not be used for weapons manufacture.

As for actual weapons, the amendments would allow the non-nuclear components to be turned over to allies, but the United States would retain control over the atomic portions of its own weapons.

In a letter accompanying the legislative proposals, AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said the intention of the administration was not to encourage the entry of new countries into the field of atomic weapons manufacture.

Thus, he added, the emphasis would be on exchanges of information with countries which already had made some progress. Strauss made it clear the exchanges would not have to be simultaneous or of things equal in value.

So far as is publicly known, only the United States and Britain, of the Western Powers, have tested nuclear weapons.

France has announced a start in developing them, and Canada has worked closely with the United States and Britain but has not undertaken weapons manufacture.

Charges OEU Muscled In On Gambling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators called labor racketeer Joey Fay for questioning today about the wealth and strongarm power he amassed in organized labor, business and politics.

The special Rackets Committee announced it also would explore charges that some Philadelphia officials of the Operating Engineers Union in which Fay rose to power have muscled in recently on organized gambling in that area on a "rather major" scale.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Louis Lattanzio of Wilmington, Del., will name under oath officials of the union who allegedly got into dice, numbers and organized gambling rackets as a sideline.

The committee heard testimony yesterday linking the union's International President William E. Maloney with Fay, who rose to power as boss of his Philadelphia and Newark, N. J., locals.

Witnesses told of bloody beatings inflicted, they said, by hired goons to keep Fay in power as the Maloney-backed, appointed boss of Philadelphia Local 542. They said Fay's reign ended only when he went to prison in 1948 after he had been convicted of a $368,000 shakedown from contractors on a New York City water project. By that time Fay also was an international vice president of the union.

Roy Underwood of Drexel Hill, Pa., the local's only elected president, testified that "someone" had pocketed millions of dollars of union funds under Fay's reign. He blamed some gory beatings on Fay's underlings, and said Maloney did "nothing whatsoever" to stop the beatings.

Underwood said he was ousted as president in 1952 by gun totting thugs sent in by Maloney from Fay's Newark Local 825. Underwood said he was fired for defying orders from Maloney to exempt the S. A. Healy Construction Co. from terms of collective bargaining contracts.

Benson Finds Farm Program Wastes Material

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today present federal farm programs promote waste in manpower and resources that threatens the fate of the nation in the cold war.

He cited surplus farm production, the cost to the government of handling it and the adverse effect it has on farm income.

"In these days of the cold war we just can't afford to waste land, manpower, machinery, gasoline, tires and electricity in producing foods and fibers for storage far in excess of sensible reserves," he said.

"The United States is rich in resources, both human and material; but no people—no country—faced with our current challenge is rich enough to afford such downright waste indefinitely."

Benson made the statements in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of Ruritan National, a civic organization.

He said that since 1950, government programs designed primarily for stabilization of farm prices and income have cost close to 10 billion dollars.

"What missile and satellite program could have been financed with just half of 10 billion dollars!" he added.

Rampaging Squirrel Slain With Blackjack After Wrecking Home

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—A rampaging squirrel was blamed by police today for "several thousand dollars' worth of damage to furnishings in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Caldwell Jr.

When police entered the building on the strength of a neighbor's report that the house had been ransacked, they found pictures knocked off walls, antique china and glassware smashed and drapes heaped on the floor.

The marauder was found in the bathroom. After a chase through the house he was dispatched with a blow from a blackjack. Police said the squirrel crawled down a fireplace chimney. The Caldwells were on vacation.

Inmates Stage Strike In Montana Prison

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP)—Half the 514 inmates of the state-run Montana State Prison are on a sitdown strike that started yesterday.

The demonstration touched off sharp exchanges between Warden F. O. Burrell and Atty. Gen. Forrest H. Anderson over what's wrong at the 89-year-old prison.

Burrell said the 275 rebellious convicts would not be fed until they returned to their home cells. They began their sitdown demonstration shortly after breakfast.

All the demonstrators are locked within their maximum security cellblock. However, they have refused to return to their individual cells.

There has been no violence. Burrell said he had not learned the cause of the rebellion.

Four Men Rescued After Dirt Collapses

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A dirt bank softened by rain and snow collapsed on the Madison Avenue Expressway project yesterday, burying two workmen.

A second cave-in minutes later trapped two other men who were clawing at the pile with their hands.

All four were rescued alive.

ANA conducts an international exchange program for nurses and more than 500 nurses, both in the United States and abroad, were assigned through the exchange program.

Professional counseling and placement service is provided by this organization with more than 65,000 nurses now having their professional credentials on file with the PCAPS.

ANA is the center for data on nursing practice and nurses and makes periodic surveys of the nation's nursing resources, it established the American Nurses' Foundation Inc., so that research in nursing could expand, and works closely with allied professional groups interested with health care, with the Federal Civil Defense Administration and other agencies and with the State Boards of Nursing, for its role in case of a national emergency.

In addition this organization is designed to provide a structure through which nurses can improve their own area of practice whatever it may be. They may become a member of an ANA section according to their area practice which include education administrators, consultants and teachers, general duty, industrial, institutional nursing service administrators, private duty, public health and special duty groups.

Health and special duty groups: head nurses, school nurses, office nurses, registrars, executive secretaries and counselors, and for operating room nurses there is a conference group made up of nurses from several sections.

Nurses are eligible for active membership if they have been granted a license as a registered nurse in at least one state and that license has not been revoked.

The American Nursing Association is not just for the program and interest of the nurse of today but it is planning for the nursing future.

When a nurse joins the 10th district Missouri Nurses Association they automatically become a member of the State Nurses Association and the ANA.

Accidents

Two cars were in collision about 2 1/2 miles west of Sedalia on the 32nd Street Road about noon Tuesday causing a delay in the mail on that route for about half an hour. No injuries were reported.

Involved was a 1958 Dodge sedan driven by James Marvin Hall, 40, of 1100 Wilkerson, who was delivering mail, and a 1953 Nash coupe driven by Kenneth Lee Kreisel, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kreisel, 701 East 28th.

Hall was headed east, and Kreisel was going west on the blacktop road which had been narrowed by the snow. The cars collided just over a crest in the road. The left front portions of both cars were damaged, but they were able to be driven off on their own power.

Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Patrol investigated the accident. George Chamberlin, whose wrecked car went to the scene when it was reported the road was blocked, loosened the bumper on the Dodge so it could be driven and Hall could continue on his mail route.

Police Brace For New Riots In Nicosia

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Troops and police braced for a new outbreak of Turkish rioting at funeral services today for victims of yesterday's battling between demonstrators and British security forces.

Tension mounted in Nicosia's seething Turkish sector with the death of the second victim of a 90-minute clash—an elderly Turkish woman hit by a military vehicle trying to push through the stone-throwing mob. An aged Turk died the same way earlier.

Osman Orek, secretary of the island's Turkish party, told newsmen he could not control his enraged people. He warned that authorities should keep the sector under curfew during the funeral.

The British ordered a curfew on the area yesterday afternoon after two days of pitched battles between British forces and Turkish mobs shouting for partition of this British-ruled Mediterranean island. But thousands of Turkish residents defied the curfew to stage new demonstrations last night.

British forces refrained from firing on the charging mobs Sunday and Monday, but it was difficult to see how they could keep the demonstrators in check without some such action.

The rioters yesterday stood off repeated charges by British troops and Turkish Cypriot police wielding batons and hurling tear gas grenades.

The mob set fire to the island's largest civilian garage and gasoline station and took up positions on the walls of the old city to prevent fire engines and ambulances from getting through.

One group besieged police headquarters, captured a police vehicle and set it afire.

The Turkish minority on Cyprus wants the island returned to Turkey or partitioned into Greek and Turkish sectors. The Greek Cypriot majority, about 80 per cent of the island population, wants to unite with Greece.

Going Steady Stunts Intellectual Growth, Says Family Expert

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Going steady at too early an age can hurt a girl's chances of getting married, warns an expert on the subject of the unwed woman.

"It stunts her intellectual and social growth," says Dr. Richard H. Klemer, 39, associate general director of the American Institute of Family Relations.

"Suppose she doesn't marry this boy she's been going with since grammar school. She is then far less intellectually and socially equipped for marriage than girls who have been dating lots of boys."

"And women shouldn't be angry or upset about other girl friends' sweethearts or husbands may have had. They're the ones who polished that diamond in the rough the woman now loves."

Dr. Klemer, interviewed at the institute, added that after a girl passes her early 20s, going steady is desirable if she wants to get married.

"After that age, if she is still flitting from one casual acquaintance to another, it could indicate she is unable to develop the deep emotional relationship needed for marriage."

To Move 14-Year-Old From Penitentiary

ANGOLA, La. (AP)—William Lee McIntosh of Cape Girardeau, Mo., will be removed from the State Penitentiary because he is only 14 years old.

This was announced yesterday by Warden Maurice Sigler. He said proof of the age of the boy, sentenced to 18 months in prison for burglary, was received from the bureau of Vital Statistics in Jefferson City, Mo.

The boy had given his age as 17, the minimum in Louisiana for sentencing to prison.

Warden Sigler said McIntosh will be remanded to the court of Dist. Judge L. Julian Samuel of Gretna for further consideration of the case.

Gov. Earl Long said last week he would favor paroling the boy to relatives. It was learned an aunt in Cape Girardeau had written the governor asking for a parole.

Pair Finds Many Friendly Folks On Their Recent European Tour

Humor and things she saw and what she thought about them were told in a sparkling manner by Mrs. O. Myking Mehers, of Kansas City, in her talk before Sorosis, Jan. 20 on "We Found Folks In Europe."

The type of folks she and her husband found on one of their tours with a group of distinguished people from the United States included the Red Dean of Canterbury with his long red velvet robe, his shoulder length white hair, and the biggest gold chain and gold cross she had ever seen, which he said was given him by the Russians. They had tea, too, with the Archbishop of Canterbury in his drawing room. There were cookies, cold biscuits and tea and he asked each American where they were from and placed them by the rivers in this country. They also had tea and cookies with former Prime Minister Clement Atlee. They visited Tito in his beautiful white palace, and many other personages.

Mrs. Mehers saw many things which she felt people would be more interested in than historic landmarks in England, such as Queen Mary's little cameo shop. You never saw so many pill boxes as Queen Mary had, she said. Queen Mary was an antique hunter and when she saw something she wanted she had a way of getting it. A friend had something the queen wanted, so when the woman was told the queen was coming to tea, she immediately knew she would want her prized possession. Someone suggested that the woman say it was at the cleaners and that was what she did, when Queen Mary asked about it. When they left, the lady in waiting held a little back and said to the woman as the queen went out the door, "The Queen would be pleased to receive this piece."

Another thing was Anne Hathaway's cottage—not just the cottage itself but because of the fact that at that particular time it was getting a new thatched roof. There are very few people any more who know how to put a thatched roof on, she said. The straw must be just right and cut right. When it is properly put on it will last from 40 to 70 years, the rain will never come through it and you can put a lighted match to it without it catching fire.

She liked Chester, England, and said if she couldn't see but one place in England, it would be Chester. When they were there a bus strike was on and so they were walking, but they liked to do that anyway. They came to Number 10 Downing Street and when a car drove up in front they stopped and watched. Something, they felt, was about to take place. Somebody brought out a dog and a blanket and put them in the back seat, then came Sir Winston Churchill. By that time quite a crowd had gathered and he smiled greetings to everybody and they gave him a nice cheer, not rowdy, just a tribute from his people of real affection, she said.

Mrs. Mehers had some little stuffed animal toys which were made by two women artists who found at that particular time their pictures didn't sell very well. They cleverly displayed the little animals in natural settings, the lions in a forest the monkeys in trees and so on. One day a man and woman were looking at them, when the man said, "Let's buy some of them for Elizabeth and Margaret." The man later became the King of England. The toys were not factory made but made by hand, and the woman asked Mrs. Mehers and some of her group to visit the place where they were made, which they did.

Attending a bazaar in England given by a women's club were the proceeds were given to charity for old people and articles the old folks had made were sold, Mrs. Mehers said that as they went in a woman from the American Embassy was given a bouquet of flowers and was asked to say something. She did and Mrs. Meher said she felt real pride in that the woman was an American because she made such a nice talk. Mehers felt a little something in the atmosphere, she didn't know what. Then a bouquet was shoved in her arm and she, too, was asked to say something. She thought she didn't do bad, either, but again she sensed something wrong. Then the woman presiding said, "Now the bazaar is officially opened." That was what they wanted the American women to do, open the bazaar, but they didn't know it. Although they had already been buying, it seemed to be traditional that the bazaar must be announced officially opened.

In Yugoslavia, said Mrs. Mehers, they found extreme poverty. Like Missouri, she said, this country had the resources to be completely self-sustaining if it were fenced off, but it has had domination for a thousand years. Things are tremendously high, such as soap at 43 cents a bar. Salaries very poor. There a teacher gets $40 a month. The people would go up and down the main street looking in windows at things they couldn't afford to buy, and nobody ever smiled. They were told by Tito that everybody believed in the party, but just before they left they went into a little shop to buy something. While they were buying, the man who owned the shop said, "You are Americans—you can worship God as you please," then he opened a little drawer and pulled out a picture of Christ.

In Zermatt, Switzerland, Mrs. Mehers said they stayed at the Victoria Hotel and every morning she was awakened by the goat herds going past, and she could hear the bells and the singing of the boys and the women. She loved it. In Brussels, France, they went over to Royal to the lace manufacturers, a concern which two women own. They said handmade lace is almost a thing of the past. The girls on the farms no longer make the lace for them but would rather work in factories in the cities.

Mrs. Mehers displayed one of the beautiful costumes that had been made for her in Norway, as well as the silver ornaments for them. These ornaments and gold ones were made by her husband's uncle, to whom she had sent the gold and silver. Her husband is a native of Norway. She was born on a farm near Clinton.

Mrs. Mehers was introduced by Mrs. Joseph Maunders, art and drama chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Harold Dean, president. The next meeting will be the new member program at which

Prostitute Lectures To Oklahoma Students

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Dr. Oliver William, president of Oklahoma State University, said bringing a prostitute to the campus to lecture to a criminology class was an error.

"I can assure the public it will not happen again," William said. "We must have academic freedom but information presented to the students must be carefully prepared."

Prof. Le C. May, in whose class of upperclassmen and graduate students the prostitute appeared, said he was going on with plans to bring the students first-hand knowledge of underworld characters.

Husband Greeted Wife In Automobile Crash

DETROIT (AP)—There was a loud crash as the two cars came together. The drivers bolted out of their vehicles, looked at each other and cut short what might have been twin torrents of harsh words.

"Mike!" exclaimed Mrs. Helen Omell.

"Helen!" shouted her husband Michael.

The Omells were on their way to jobs in different parts of the city.

Sputniks and More, Too

What we have to say today may be considered unethical by the advertising department, but we're going to put in a commercial for one of the season's best sellers—the new World Almanac and Book of Facts for 1958.

We couldn't wait for the New York World-Telegram & Sun, publisher, to send us one, so bought the volume from Vic Scott and paid our Christmas bill just as his father Arthur was pulling out for vacation in Texas. Next in the mail we received an Almanac from our boss, Al Dear who agrees it's a pretty good tool for an editor. Then another arrived from the World-Telegram and a note from Harry Hansen giving a breakdown on the contents which we are going to condense like so:

"The World Almanac gives a complete report of the World Series and of the whole baseball season, horse racing, football, basketball and all major sports. It gives election returns for 1957, and Presidential figures for earlier years. It has a new section on events of the American Civil War, now approaching its centenary. It has an augmented section dealing with great catastrophes—fires, tornadoes, floods, railroad wrecks, airplane crashes, in easily read tables. It reviews the work of the first session of the 85th Congress and the year's events in Labor, both the negotiations for better wages and the Senatorial inquiry into unethical business practices. Crime as reported by the FBI, figures for births and deaths, state laws governing marriage and divorce—these are among the many phases of American life covered in the World Almanac."

Actually Harry is too modest about this 73rd annual edition which is more abundant with information than its predecessors which we have been using faithfully for 38 years. The dramatic events of 1957 are all chronicled in the new edition with statistical data on everything from Abyssinia to the Zuider Zee. Cited also is the sensational success of the Soviet Union in launching Sputniks to whirl around the Earth.

In this connection the reviewers seem to have overlooked commenting on the significant mention of the satellites in the 1957 issue released in January of that year ten months ahead of Sputnik I. This item is particularly pertinent since there was so much clamor about the United States being caught off balance and the Democrats and Republicans blaming each other for not knowing what the Russians were up to.

Nine enlightening paragraphs were devoted to description of the "First American Satellite" Vanguard which ultimately blew up, but the projected plans for its launching were detailed. Further mention was made of the 7th congress of the International Astronautical Federation meeting in Rome in 1956. "One third of the papers dealt with satellites," the Almanac reported.

But here is the pithy paragraph which, it seems, so many overlooked: "The Academy of Sciences of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics applied for membership. The Soviet Union is expected to launch a satellite during the Geophysical year." Surprise?!

For extra curricular reading the World Almanac is a good book to have handy when the TV commercials and Gun Smoke operas become boring.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Haiti Wants To Soften Murder Scandal

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Three potent Republicans have just been hired by the Haitian government to handle its public relations, especially in the matter of the murder of an American citizen. They are:

John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late president and only Republican member of the family. Retainer: $150,000.

Douglas Whitlock, formerly of the Republican National Committee staff and organizer of the Eisenhower campaign train in 1952. Retainer: $50,000.

Wesley Roberts, former chairman of the Republican National Committee who was dropped after an expose of his lobbying activities in Kansas, is also doing some work for the Haitians, but not directly. He is working for his former assistant, Whitlock.

Chief work of this battery of high-placed Republicans at the moment is to soften the State Department's demands on Haiti for proper compensation, apology, and punishment for the brutal murder of an American citizen, Shibley Talamas. Talamas learned the police wanted him for questioning and checked in at the police station in Port-Au-Prince, whereupon he was brutally beaten to death.

What made the murder worse was the fact that the American consul, knowing the trigger-happy habits of Haitian police, had secured advance assurances that Talamas would not be mistreated. When his body was found next day, it was a mass of bruises from the neck down.

Haitian military strong-arm man Antonio Kereau, the real man behind the Haitian government, upheld the Haitian police, claimed Talamas died of a heart attack while resisting arrest.

Secretary Dulles, however, has made strong demands that the Talamas family be compensated and that the guilty be punished. He is threatening to cut off economic aid to Haiti until these demands are fulfilled.

It's the present job of the three high-placed Republicans to soften Dulles's wrath. Willis and Whitlock have talked to the State Department, suggesting that the Haitian government merely apologize, pay no indemnity. John Roosevelt has suggested the same thing.

John informed this column that he also advised the Haitian government: "Your economic future is dependent on the good will of the United States."

Regardless of influential Republicans, the State Department is standing pat.

Battle for Truth

It was not true, as officially announced, that the Moulder committee decided unanimously to suppress the secret memo charging members of the Federal Communications Commission with taking gifts and free trips from the radio-TV industry. Here is the real story of what happened.

After this column published the verbatim text of pertinent parts of the secret memo, Chairman Moulder, Missouri Democrat, spoke to several members of his committee, and all agreed there was no longer any point in keeping the memo confidential. Moulder then mimeographed copies for a general press release.

At this point Rep. Oren Harris, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the parent committee and who is sponsor of the Harris Gas Bill, stepped in. Harris received a 25-per-cent share in TV station KRBB in El Dorado for only $5,000, then wanted to increase its power from 24,000 to 316,000 watts. Harris is also the man who led the so-called "penguin probe," the recent congressional committee which flew over both the North and South Poles at the taxpayers' expense for no good reason except headlines.

Harris demanded that Moulder call a committee meeting and 4½ hours were spent haggling the question of releasing the memo. Harris was dead opposed. Rep. Charles Wolverson of New Jersey attended as ranking Republican on the full committee and supported Moss of California and Mack of Illinois, two Democrats who argued that the public had a right to know the contents. He and Moulder lost.

The final vote was 6 to 5 against publicity. Only one man voted with Moulder, Moss, Mack and Wolverson for publicity—Bennett of Michigan, Republican. Those who voted against letting the public know the facts, in addition to Harris, were: Williams (Miss.), Flynt (Ga.), Democrats; with O'Hara (Minn.), Hale (Me.), Heseltin (Mass.), Republicans.

Remark Mississippi's John Bell Williams during the debate: "We'll probably read all about this meeting tomorrow in Drew Pearson's column."

After the 6-to-5 vote against releasing the secret memo, Moulder wanted to make it clear that it had been suppressed by a majority vote. But other congressmen wouldn't support him. The final press release dishonestly stated that it was the "unanimous" decision of the committee to suppress the report. The vote on this was 8 to 0, with three congressmen not voting.

Thus ended the battle over whether to tell the public the truth.

Note—At one point Chairman Moulder made it clear that he had not been in touch with either Pearson or Pearson's staff for about eight months. I had called at his office sometime last May or June.

World Isn't Crazy, But It's Mixed Up

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world is a little too old to claim it's a crazy, mixed-up kid. And maybe it isn't crazy. But it's mixed up. The Baghdad Pact is an example.

Secretary of State Dulles right now is in Ankara, Turkey, at a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations: Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. We not only support this alliance with guns and money. We pushed the ideas.

But we won't join it. This alliance was created as a military defense against Russia along its southern flank. It is one more link in a chain of alliances this country sponsored around the world. Examples: NATO in Western Europe, SEATO in Southeast Asia.

The Arabs of the Middle East—but not all of them, since Iraq is an Arab country and is in the Baghdad Pact—don't like the pact arrangements.

Besides, after their years of experience with the colonial-minded British and French, they are justly sensitive on the subject of colonialism and suspicious of any big power wielding influence in the area.

So this country—and this seems to be the main reason for our not joining—stays out of the pact as added assurance to the Arab world that we have no colonial intentions but only want to help the area.

Since we're actually up to our necks in the Baghdad Pact we seem to be achieving what we want without exposing ourselves to the anti-American propaganda barrages of Egypt and Russia which would be stepped up if we joined.

Yet we could hardly be deeper in the pact if we did join, and this is something both the Russians and the Middle East Arabs know.

While letting ourselves be considered officially only as an associate member, we assure the Baghdad Pact countries we will come to their assistance if they're hit with Communist aggression. The only Communist country in the area is Russia.

But we also extend the same promise to the rest of the Middle East—if they ever need it and ask for it.

Another reason for staying out of the pact may be concern about Russian reaction to having us as full-fledged member of the Baghdad alliance on the Soviet doorstep. But since we're the main support of the pact anyway, that couldn't mean much.

It could have been hoped—when the pact was created several years ago—that besides its value as a military defense against Russia it would help keep the Soviets out of the Middle East. Some of the member countries lie between the two.

But the Russians just skipped around the roadblock by giving arms to Egypt and help to Syria. They proved two fine starting points for the Soviets to start spreading their influence in the Middle East and into Africa.

But things will really get heated if this country heads the request of Pakistan, made yesterday at Ankara, for modern weapons as a defense against Russia. The most modern would be missiles.

If missile bases were set up just across the frontier from Russia in the Baghdad area, any complaints the Russians might have about our joining the pact would sound like mild complaints compared with their protests about the bases.

'Ideal' Wife Far From Rare, According To Men Readers

The men who read this column say the ideal wife I pictured a few weeks ago is NOT too good to be true.

Many claim to be married to her. And that's not all. They add quite a number of other qualities to the ones I listed.

Here are a few of the reasons given by men readers for feeling they have married the ideal woman.

Says one: "Though we have seven children my wife not only has time for me, she sees to it that I am treated like a king in my own home."

"If I try to fix something around the house and make a mess of it, I never hear a word. If what I've made is too bad, she just quietly moves it out to the garage when I am not around."

"Though I am hot-headed, we never fight. Many a time I have deserved being told off, but my wife just keeps quiet and pretty soon I see how unreasonable I have been and apologize, though she never seems to expect an apology and never sulks or acts hurt."

Another husband writes: "In addition to all the qualities of a good wife listed in your recent column, my wife has one that I wouldn't trade for any other. She honestly believes that there isn't anything I can't do."

"As a consequence I haven't been afraid to take chances or tackle a job I, myself, thought might be beyond my capabilities. The success I have made in the business world is largely a result of my wife's faith in me."

Still another says: "The nicest thing about my wife is that she doesn't think she is perfect nor does she try to convince me that I am lucky to be married to her. By just being herself with me—faults and all—she leaves me free to be myself."

"And we not only get along fine, but I am secretly convinced that she is the ideal wife—at least for me. For I couldn't stand being married to a perfect woman or to one who thought she was."

Another husband says: "My wife has never acted like our home belonged to her. I can do as I please when I am home, invite friends in whenever I wish, and even when she doesn't know they are coming she always makes my friends welcome."

Thanks, men, for telling us the qualities that make your wives easy to live with. Just one question: Have you ever taken the trouble to tell HER?

Odds and Ends

The weather report had been for snow and when the little girl woke up it wasn't there.

"It didn't snow," she said. "Why didn't it snow?" The weatherman said it was going to. That weatherman lied. I'm never going to believe him again."

Her mother tried to tell her that the weatherman didn't lie—he just was wrong in his predictions. That day the sky began to fill with snow clouds and the little girl and her daddy kept watching and wishing it would snow. Mother, however, didn't share their wishes and commented: "You two sure do want it to snow, don't you?"

They did, they agreed, they really wanted it to snow. That evening it started and the next morning when they woke up there was snow everywhere. It was deep and drifting and blowing at a dizzy pace. Father's car was stuck and he couldn't get to work and the youngster couldn't get to school. The whole neighborhood was snowed in, too. Father's mood on snow

A Case Of False Economy

Hennings Opposes Cut In Flood Protection Program

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Charges of a short-sighted and false economy are made by Senator Hennings in cutting the Missouri flood protection programs, by the administration's budget.

The senator contends "this country is big enough and rich enough to expand our defense programs as it must be expanded and to continue the essential public works which safeguard and enhance our natural resources." The cutback is from $5 million to $2.8 million.

Other senators with like problems are making similar protests. The council of State Chambers of Commerce found little to show that President Eisenhower applied his "storm test of priority" to civilian expenditures in his 1959 budget.

In a breakdown of the cost of the President's budget for fiscal 1959 Missouri bears 2.39 percent of the federal tax burden. The cost of the proposed budget puts Missouri's share at $1,766,210,000.

Unless the trend of spending is stopped, the study warned that "rising expenditures will continue to eat up whatever revenues present tax rates will produce as the economy grows."

Does the average American know where to go if he believes his federal voting rights are being denied?

Convinced that many would-be voters are unaware of new civil rights protection passed by the last session of Congress, Senator Thomas C. Hennings has asked the cooperation of Attorney General William Rogers.

The senator's suggestion, if adopted, would put notices on bulletin boards in post office and other federal buildings. Included would be the addresses and telephone numbers of the nearest offices of U. S. attorney and the FBI where the citizen could file a complaint.

The senator got the idea from the nation-wide publicity given to non-citizens to register with the government before February 1st.

Your Child's Health

Special Diet Counters Celiac Disease In Infants

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Several parents have inquired about celiac disease. This is a disorder of nutrition in infants which is usually shown by distension, or swelling of the abdomen, and a chronic diarrhea.

Its cause is still obscure, but it is probably the result of disturbance of the digestive processes and poor assimilation of food rather than the lack of food. The mechanism by which it arises is complex because it has so far been impossible to pinpoint any single cause.

The treatment of celiac disease is aimed primarily at maintaining the nutrition of the infant by giving a diet of those foods which the child seems to be able to absorb and utilize best. The disorder may last only a short time or extend over months, or even years. However, the outlook is probably better now than it used to be because of the greater knowledge of nutrition which has been developed over the past few years.

Two related problems are presented by mothers, one of whom asks for a discussion of "tongue-tie" in children, and the other of whom says that her four-year-old boy appears to hear well, though does not talk except to say "mama" and "daddy" and a few other similar baby words.

The term "tongue-tie" has been largely abandoned because there is little reason to believe that difficulty with speech is often associated with an anatomical defect of the tongue which this name implies. Thus, I suspect that the first mother's problem, like the second, is a problem of delayed talking.

Often this is not as serious as parents believe and quite a lot of small children understand quite well and suddenly blossom forth as great talkers when it seems worth their while to do so. But if it seems as though something is seriously wrong, expert advice should be obtained. Most physicians and many teachers are familiar with this problem and can advise parents where to obtain the needed attention.

A difficult and sad problem comes from Mrs. J. She says that

Finally the little girl looked up at him, "Daddy," she said, "I guess we just wished too hard."—H. L.

Hydronephrosis is a dilation of that portion of the kidney known as the pelvis. Some cases seem to be of congenital or inborn nature and some the result of obstruction preventing the free passage of urine. The fact that it was discovered following a football accident was almost certainly pure chance, since there is doubtless no connection between these two circumstances.

The obstruction causing hydronephrosis should be removed, if possible. In some cases if the hydronephrosis involves one kidney only, and the other is normal, the diseased kidney should be removed since there is generally enough function in one kidney to take care of the needs of the body.

Spices and herbs add to the desirability of food. A pinch of cinnamon or a dash of thyme change the flavor of otherwise commonplace foods. Some of these herbs actually increase the flow of digestive fluids in the body. In any case, eating is more pleasant when the flavor is changed.

Ordinary life activities frequently bore us because they are so routine or so repetitive. The lack of variation makes us weary. This tedium is relieved when we bring our spiritual principles into play. Life becomes more desirable when the commonplace is touched with God's flavor.

Prayer changes things. Thinking about our service to man and to God makes living more worth while. Studying the miraculous powers of God over the universe inspires us to a point of satisfaction. Peace replaces the confusion of nervous strain. The spiritual spices of life add much to its flavor.

Intoxicated Driving Decreases, Annual Police Report Points Out

The annual report of Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors was read at the City Council Monday night, in which it was pointed out the department as a whole had a busy year. Especially noted in the report was the decline of intoxicated drivers over 1956, while a turn in events occurred for careless and reckless drivers.

In 1957 there were 223 intoxicated drivers arrested and fined against 302 in 1956, a decline of 79 persons. But careless drivers soared upward, there being 266 arrested and fined against 197 the previous year or an increase of 69.

Although Sedalia inaugurated the radar for the catching of speeders, there was a decline in arrests, there being 11 less speeders in the city than in 1956. For the year 1957 there were 357, as compared to 368 the previous year. Four more persons failed to see the "No Left Turn" signs on Ohio Avenue, there being 38 arrested against 34 in 1956, while the violators of running through the red traffic lights was off two, there being 47 arrested the past year in comparison of 49 in 1956.

The report also points out that 29 persons failed to remain at the scene of an accident and were arrested, while in the previous year the police were compelled to follow up and arrest only 17.

Noisy automobile or motor vehicles went on a decline with the arrest of only 12 the past year against 29 in 1956, when the "Hollywood muffler" was the rage among some of the younger motorists.

Something new in recent years was the enforcement of the new city curfew law which prohibits juveniles from being on the streets after midnight. There were 37 parents of children caught out after curfew who were arrested and appeared in police court to answer charges of permitting a minor to be on the streets after curfew hours.

There were 103 more calls answered in 1957 than the previous year, there being 2,643 against 2,540. Arrests made in 1957 totalled 3,053 as against 2,626 in 1956.

The estimated valuation of property reported lost or stolen and recovered by the police totalled $59,508.66, as against $62,095.95.

Juveniles in other ways kept the police fairly active during the year, with 57 being picked up and given warnings by the police, compared with 42 in 1956, while there were an additional 94 picked up by the officers and released to the juvenile officer, compared with 65 the previous year.

Nine persons were arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, as against five the previous year.

It was a clean record on stolen automobiles. There were 22 reported stolen and 22 recovered, while in 1956 there were 22 stolen and 21 recovered, and as yet that one car hasn't been found.

In the bicycle department there were 62 stolen and 57 recovered, five still listed as missing, while in 1956 there were 43 stolen, 36 recovered and seven never recovered.

There were 139 reports against 73 of parts being stolen from automobiles, and there were 38 reports against 25 of articles stolen from motor vehicles.

Shocking but true is the report that 338 doors of downtown businesses were found unlocked as against 211 in 1956, but there was a decrease in open windows, there being 142 found open by the officers against 272. The doors and windows found unlocked or open totalled 480 against 483 in 1956, a difference of only three.

During the year there was one murder, one attempted suicide and five suicides, while the previous year it was three, three and four.

The fines for the year were down $47,334 being assessed and $39,844.50 being collected, against $51,504 assessed and $46,925.50 collected in 1956. Delinquent fines were up $3,584.50, there being $4,436 delinquent this year against only $833.50 in 1956.

An explanation of the delinquent fines being so large was given by Police Sgt. Charles Homan. Although the figure is $4,436, this is broken down to where the actual delinquent fines, those which probably cannot be collected, will amount to $847, six dollars less than 1956.

The figure given includes: Fines assessed upon which appeals were taken to the circuit court and have not been completed as court cases and which total $150; an appeal case on the alleged violation of a gas ordinance which was lost in court but which still shows on the books as $100 delinquent; another $100 shown delinquent on a $200 fine, when the case was dismissed and only $100 was paid; along with $2,648.50 which has been paid since the report was drawn up; and an additional $490 in fines which will be paid by the first of April; for a total of $3,588.50, leaving an actual delinquency of $847.50.

Hence the combining of several phases of the appeal fines, and payments made, ordinarily kept separate for bookkeeping purposes, brings the loss in fines down considerably.

Overtime parkers who paid the $1 fines took a drop for 1957, there being $2,534 being collected against $2,925 in 1956, indicating an increase of overtime parkers taking advantage of the 25-cent fee by reporting within a half-hour after getting a ticket.

Additional traffic cases, it is noted worthy that people are becoming more educated in yielding the right-of-way to emergency vehicles, with only two such cases the past year compared with nine in 1956. Left turns increased 38 to 34; "U" turns decreased 13 to 17; but improper parking skyrocketed upwards 272, there being 323 cases against 61 the previous year; double parking was up 44 to 40; parking in loading zones dropped 17 to 44; while parking in safety zones went up 47 to 41. Trucks parking in residential areas was also up 19 to five; 38 to 32 in blocking driveways; while blocking sidewalks dropped 29.

There were 41 persons who were prosecuted for not paying overtime parking tickets the past year against 11; while under licenses there was a drop, there being 91 to 147 who failed to buy the city license sticker and six to 22 who failed to display the sticker.

More persons were arrested for carrying concealed weapons, the number being 22 to nine; 213 persons were charged with disturbing the peace against 168; 31 resisted arrest against 23 in 1956; felonious assault charges were up 14 to 11; and common assault charges dropped 86 to 89.

The number charged with discharging fireworks in the city tied six and six; and there were ten persons charged with dumping trash on the city streets last year as compared to seven in 1956.

Possession of obscene literature shows three were prosecuted for the offense, and no record of the violation in 1956.

Petty thievery was on the increase, with 53 being arrested against 43 in 1956.

Nine cases of armed robbery occurred against two in 1956, and under the classification of robberies there were 18, as against none reported in 1956.

There were seven attempted breakins of business places against ten; but there were 37 successful breakins of business establishments compared with 36; no reported attempted breakins of residences in 1957 and five in 1956; with 19 houses being broken into against 15 the previous year.

In 1957 there were 625 days served in the city jail by city offenders against 570 in 1956.

Jefferson City Bowlers Break Broadway Lane's Winning Skein

Jefferson City's torrid shooting Bowl-A-While quintet, paced by Bill and Harold Eggen, halted Broadway Lanes intercity victory streak at four Sunday afternoon with a decisive 2815-2679 triumph in a match rolled at the Capital City. The 2697 series score was one of the lowest registered by Sedalia's leading traveling team this season.

Broadway Lanes squeezed past the host team by two pins in the opening match, 918-916, but the locals fell out of contention in the second tilt as the Jeffersonians rapped the maples for a blistering 1030 game and a 133-pin margin. In this game, high for the day, Bill Eggen paced the victors by spilling 223 sticks. Jim Willis followed with a 222 and Harold Eggen and Joe Kleene recorded 216's.

Both teams cooled off in the third game, but Jefferson City managed a five pin win, 869-864. Harold Eggen of Bowl-A-While recorded high series with 590 pins, and teammates Bill Eggen and Jim Willis had 590 and 584 scores, respectively. Not a Sedalia was able to break 200 in the three game set. Bill Shockey was high with a 195 game and 574 series. Jack Vaughan had second high series, 192, and second high series, 562, for Broadway Lanes.

By virtue of winning two "Sugar" games, Broadway Lanes broke even, money wise, for the day. John Hazell, with a 232, and Joe Long, with a 213, led the Sedalians in the opening win, 957-864. The final game was undecided until the last man, but Sedalia won out, 952-941, despite Bill Eggen's superb 266 game which featured nine strikes. Anchor man Bob McCurdy rolled a 211 and John Hazell dumped 207 pins to spark this Sedalia win.

SPLIT CONVERSIONS

Split conversions recorded during the past week were reported as follows: Sam Austin 5-7; Bill Moody 4-9; P. Barnes 3-10; Harold Yeager 3-10; Tony Proctor 5-7; 3-7-10; Fred Arbogast 3-4-5, 4-5; Bob Land 6-7; Oscar Thomas 5-7 (twice); Betty Bowman 6-10 and 5-10; Ruth Campbell 5-10; Ruth Johnson 4-10 and 4-5; Jerry Clark 3-10; Fern Hanigan 5-6; Bob Young 5-7 and 8-10; Jim Anderson 3-10; Margaret Beucke 6-8-10; Mary Scott 4-5-7.

PAT MORRIS ROLLS 208

Pat Morris led women bowlers in ABC sanctioned league play last week with a 208 game. Pat also had high series for the week with a 556-pin effort for a three game set. Other top scores recorded by the women were Ruth Campbell's 184; R. Long 181 and J. Nagel 201.

BETTER BOWLING

A straight pendulum swing is important for accuracy and line of flight according to Lee Jougla, holder of the ABC's singlers record.

Swinging the arm away from the side during the approach will cause the ball to cross the body at the point of release. This will result in one of two things, both bad. (1) The ball crossing the body makes the bowler release it too soon, so that it never reaches the pocket. (2) It brings about pulling the ball, causing it to cross to the opposite side of the head pin.

In either case, the usual result is a tough spare.

SACRED HEART AVERAGES

Averages in the Sacred Heart bowling league were released this week as follows: Don Franke 130; Matt Westermier 123; Jim Mulcahey 127; Terry Menefee 126; Tom Moser 124; Kenneth Geiser 120; Kenneth Berlin 119; John Martin 115; Bill Mayfield 114; Mike Edwards 114; Sue Keller 113; Ralph Vickers 111; LeRoy Freese 107; Leah Gunn 107; Don Rouchka 103; Dave Curry 106; Catherine Mehl 106; Jim Wiesing 106; Andy Wolf 105; Phillip DeMichele 105; Pat Hogan 106.

MIDGET WRESTLER—Doll Paige the "Blonde Bombshell" who meets Gypsy Rose, another small lady wrestler, in the matches at the Armory tonight.

Doll Paige, Gypsy Rose Here Tonight

Tonight will be a bargain day for wrestling fans, when the American Legion presents an all star card, of four matches. Not only will the midget girl wrestlers, Doll Paige and Gypsy Rose appear in a special added attraction, but there will be three other bouts headlined by a tag team match.

Gypsy Rose, a former fortune teller is only 45 inches in height and weighs some 87 lbs. and according to all reports, she is a tiny package of "TNT" once she goes into action. Opposing the Gypsy is Doll Paige, a platinum blond midget, referred to as the "Blonde Bombshell." Although a novelty of the Mat World, these two young ladies have proven a sellout attraction wherever they have appeared.

In the main event, Ronnie Etchison and Sonny Myers, the St. Joe tag team specialists run into the toughest opposition they have yet had to meet, when they trade holds with Otto von Krup, the former Storm Trooper, from Munich Germany and reputed to be one of the world's strongest men, and his partner "Big" Lee Henning. Henning is no new comer to these parts and certainly has never won any popularity contests. In Myers and Etchison, promoter Gust Karras hopes to eliminate from any future contests the challenges of von Krup and Henning, who have been demanding a world title match. This will be a two out of three fall tussle with an hour time limit.

A single match between Don Curtis, international heavyweight champion and Red Bill McIntyre holds down the 2 out of 3 fall semifinal. The word is out to watch Curtis who has had great success in his past 160 matches having gone undefeated. Fans predict that Curtis is the coming world champion and against the rugged McIntyre, he will have a chance to prove himself.

Opening the card will be Tag Captains Ronnie Etchison and Lee Henning who will test each other in a one fall match that has a 20 minute time limit. This is without a doubt the season's outstanding card. Doors will open at 7:15 at the Armory.

Mountaineers Are Top Team On AP Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia's Mountaineers no longer are unbeaten, but they're still the top-heavy choice in today's Associated Press college basketball poll—based on games through Saturday.

Duke's stunning 72-68 upset ended West Virginia's winning streak at 14 last night, but came too late to be reflected in the balloting by the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters.

There were two other upsets last night. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had climbed a notch by running its winning streak to 12, was beaten 70-64 by Houston.

Eighth-ranked Kentucky was trimmed 71-52 by Georgia Tech. Kentucky now is 12-4.

The Mountaineers totaled 1,008 points in the poll to 834 for runner-up Kansas. They were the first pick on 73 of 110 ballots.

Cincinnati, led by the nation's top scorer, Oscar Robertson, continued to advance, jumping past Kansas State into third place by a narrow margin.

The rest of the top 10 lists San Francisco, Oklahoma State, North Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland and North Carolina State.

N.C. State rejoined the top 10, off its 57-48 victory over Maryland last week, while Bradley slipped to 12th after losing to Portland.

Point totals are figured on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

The standings with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. West Virginia (73)	1,008
2. Kansas (12)	834
3. Cincinnati (14)	760
4. Kansas State (2)	731
5. San Francisco (4)	533
6. Oklahoma State (1)	474
7. North Carolina (2)	298
8. Kentucky (1)	295
9. Maryland	203
10. N.C. State	189

The Second 10:

11. Temple	175
12. Bradley	159
13. St. John's (Brooklyn)	158
14. Mississippi State (1)	69
15. Michigan State	55

Kukiszyn Is Seventh On High Score List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 41-point effort last night, giving him a total of 140 in the last four games, boosted Alabama's Jack Kubiszyn into seventh place in the major colleges individual basketball scoring standings. Three weeks ago he was 19th.

Kubiszyn was the big gun in Alabama's 105-44 victory over Howard of Alabama last night.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State turned in a 35-point job in a 75-61 decision over Southeastern of Louisiana and moved from seventh to fifth place.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati continues to lead the nation's scorers with a game average of 32.8 in 15 starts. Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas remains in second place with an average of 32.4.

NFL Winter Meet Opens With Draft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The four-day National Football League annual winter meeting opened here today with the day-long player draft.

Commissioner Bert Bell banged the gavel for the 10-hour job of player selections at approximately 10 a.m. Coaches, general managers and owners from each of the 12 pro clubs were on hand for the task.

The first four rounds of the annual 30-round draft were held Dec. 1. That left 26 rounds involving 312 players to be run through today. Commissioner Bell indicated there was a slim possibility the owners might decide to reduce the draft by five rounds.

The reason for this is that the NFL has a contract limit of 60 players with a regular season maximum of 35 men. Thus even if a team signed all its draftees it would have 65 players, five over the contract maximum. It takes a unanimous vote to make the change.

After the draft, the owners meet in executive session to take up such matters as congressional recommendations for changes in the league's constitution and by-laws, playing rules, schedules, and expansion regulations. Although the meeting is scheduled for four days, Bell says he hopes the business can be wrapped up in three.

Bell said he will recommend the lowest team in the standings each year for 12 years automatically get the bonus pick. Each team would be entitled to win just once. This means the lowest eligible team after the first year would get the bonus.

The owners also will be faced with a request by the players assn. for a pension plan.

Bears Bump Bulldogs In 77-56 Victory

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The Springfield Bears bumped the Kirksville Bulldogs 77-56 last night and appear to have clear sailing to the MIAA basketball championship.

It was the unbeaten Bears' 15th victory of the season and their 5th in the league. Kirksville dropped into a tie with Warrensburg in second place at 2-2.

Max Oldham hit 20 points for Springfield and Jerry Burditt got 16 for Kirksville.

Giants Seek To Trade Off John Atonelli

NEW YORK (AP) — On the threshold of one trade, the San Francisco Giants today were looking ahead to the possibility of dealing away ace left-hander Johnny Antonelli.

They are now clearing waivers on first baseman Gail Harris and infielder Ossie Virgil to trade the pair to Detroit for Jim Finigan. Vice President Chub Feeney admitted the deal with the Tigers was just about wrapped up except for the waivers.

Feeney, the last of the Giants' official family still in New York, admitted that the club had considered trading Antonelli.

"Naturally, a lot of clubs want him," Feeney commented. "We talked with a couple last weekend about him."

While no one was admitting it openly, the word was that Cincinnati had offered the Giants catcher Ed Bailey and infielder Alex Grammas for Antonelli, who already has sent back his contract unsigned. But the Giants would like more than Grammas.

"I wouldn't want to say that we won't make a deal with the Reds," Feeney commented. "But at the moment the chances are very remote. In fact, we have a much better chance of making a deal with two other clubs than we do with the Reds."

Manager Bill Rigney, contacted before he flew for Phoenix yesterday, said he'd okay a trade for Antonelli "if we got enough."

"That would mean a good catcher plus a good outfielder," Rigney continued. "It would have to be at least a 2-1 proposition."

Sacred Heart Gremlins Dumped Into Consolation Play in PBCAA

The Sacred Heart Gremlins were dumped into consolation play in the first round of the Pettis-Benton County Athletic Association Basketball Tournament Monday night with a 72-48 defeat at the hands of the Lincoln Cardinals. The tournament is being played on the Green Ridge court.

Wednesday night the Gremlins will meet the Houstonia Shamrocks losers to LaMonte's Vikings in the only other basketball game played Monday night.

In tournament volleyball play the Sacred Heart girls led Cole Camp until late in the second half when Cole Camp's Morarity reached the front line and spiked four straight points across the net to crumple the lady Gremlins' hopes with a 24-20 victory.

Mehl was high scorer for Sacred Heart serving nine points and Morarity topped Cole Camp with six.

In other volleyball games LaMonte whipped Warsaw 28-14 and Houstonia walloped Lincoln 33-21. Sharron Schenk served eight points to top LaMonte's scoring and Laird scored four to lead Warsaw. Houstonia was led by Schuler with eight and Kreissler led Lincoln also with eight.

In tonight's basketball games Green Ridge takes on Hughesville and Warsaw meets the powerful Smithtown Tigers. In volleyball games Green Ridge plays LaMonte and Hughesville vies with Smithtown.

Lincoln's Cardinals broke the game wide open in the second quarter to take a halftime lead over Sacred Heart after the Gremlins trailed by only two points 14-12 at the end of the first period.

The Cardinals completely lost sight of the floundering Gremlins in the third period with a dazzling 21 point offensive show while Sacred Heart was collecting only eight.

The Gremlins' Don Ressel copped game scoring honors with eight field goals and two charity tosses for 18 points and Robin Suhle netted 15 to lead Lincoln while Larry Kreissler and John Christian backed him up with 14 and 13 respectively.

Harold Finke and Larry Burke combined efforts to total 43 points to lead LaMonte's Vikings over Houstonia 72-48. Finke netted 23 and Burke tallied 20 to lead the Vikings' offensive.

Trailing 15-12 at the end of the first quarter LaMonte accounted for 17 in the second quarter while the Shamrocks were netting 10 for a 29-25 halftime lead that proved to be the winning margin. The two teams played on even terms during the remainder of the game.

Archie Shireman led Houstonia's attack with 16 points, followed by Larry Pannill and Ray Haley with 13 and 11, respectively.

Grant Heads List of Best Dressed Men

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cary Grant, who admits he still wears a topcoat that he bought in 1935, today headed a list of Hollywood's best dressed men as voted by other movie stars.

Sy Devore, famed movie stylist, polled some 300 actors after a reporter had long pressed him to name filmland's fanciest 10.

Besides Grant, the list is, in this order, Jerry Lewis, Fred Astaire, Dean Martin, Bill Holden, Gary Cooper, Tony Curtis, Nat King Cole, David Niven and Clark Gable.

It's an honest count because Grant, Astaire, Cooper, Niven and Gable are not Devore clients. The designer called Grant "a tailor's delight in casual clothes." Grant buys such expensive clothes that they never go out of style. That's why his 1935 topcoat is still as fashionable as its owner.

Lewis owns the biggest wardrobe by far. His closets currently have more than 300 suits, including 17 new tuxedos at $235 apiece.

"Jerry sometimes gives a suit to a struggling actor after wearing it once or twice," Devore said. "I guess he just doesn't like cleaning bills."

Devore described Holden as the least "actorish" in his dress.

"He dresses more like a Wall Street executive than a movie star," the designer added. Of Martin, Devore said, "His 41-inch shoulders and 32-inch waist give him the perfect figure for sport clothes."

Of Cooper: "His long, lean, lanky frame could make him the man to bring back the double-breasted suit."

Of Curtis and Astaire: "Both are wizards with accessories and jewelry."

Of Niven: "His suits are always made of exceptionally fine wools, mohairs and cashmeres," he said.

Niven made the list, the designer said, because of a recent switch from the bulky, British look to a suave, continental, man-about-town appearance.

And of Gable: "He's proof that a big man can be a fashion plate."

Kite Lead Wire Melts, Saves Youth's Life

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Tom Mazi, 17, who flew a 12-foot kite Sunday with a plastic-insulated wire, is alive to tell about it today because the wire was too light to carry 4,000 volts.

Police said the wire melted immediately and broke the contact when it fell over two 4,000-volt power lines.

Pacific Gas Electric Co. men said he would have been electrocuted if the wire had not melted. He was treated for a burned finger and slight shock at Palo Alto Hospital.

Richmond Key Given To Grant's Grandson

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—More than a century ago Ulysses S. Grant had to fight his way into Richmond. But the Civil War general's grandson, Ulysses S. Grant III, will have an easier time getting in next month — he will receive a key to the city.

City Council decided last night to honor Grant when he speaks at the Virginia Heritage Dinner.

"The war is over," a councilman said with sad finality.

Grant, a retired Army major general, resides near Washington.

WAGES OF SIN?—This weed-grown field, near the center of Columbus, is where Ohio Penitentiary buries its unclaimed dead. When the cemetery was established in 1840 it was a restful grassy spot, far removed from city traffic and debris. Today it is weed-covered, and littered with broken bottles, wind-swept paper and garbage. Some of the older graves have no markers. Some of the headstones have been broken and crushed by vandals. Prison officials say they try to keep the cemetery tidy, but Warden Ralph W. Alvis explains, "We can't keep a man out there all the time."

Studios Plan Few Musicals This Season

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What ever happened to the movie musical?

A glance at the 1958 schedules of the Hollywood studios shows a dearth of song-and-dance films, which amounted to 40 per cent of movie production in wartime years. Now the musical appears to be almost facing extinction.

Twentieth Century-Fox, onetime haven of Alice Faye and Betty Grable, has only one out-and-out musical in the works—"Can Can"—and it has been postponed again and again. Paramount, where Hope and Crosby once cavorted, promises only an Elvis Presley film and possibly the life of jazzman Red Nichols.

Warner Brothers, which started the musical trend of the 30s with Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and company, has scheduled "Damn Yankees" and no other tunefilms.

RKO, which gave Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers to the world, is dark, and Universal-International is grinding to a halt on all films. Columbia has planned no big musicals.

MGM, long the citadel of the musical, is doing its bit. But the effort is a fraction of its once-hefty schedule. The only "pure" musical on the 1958 slate appears to be the Broadway hits "The Boy Friend" and "The Bells are Ringing."

Of course, there are a number of rock 'n' roll quickies being made, but they hardly add much luster to the screen.

To get back to the original question—What has happened? I offer these observations:

1. Musicals are expensive to make. In an economy-minded era, studios can't afford them. Arrangers, musicians, etc., that are needed to sustain musical production.

2. More and more films are being made by independent producers. With an eye toward costs, they tend to steer away from the musical.

3. Musicals are a costly risk. While they were surefire in war times, when everyone sought escapist entertainment, they are by no means a cinch to recoup their heavy costs now.

4. American audiences get a surfeit of music on TV.

5. The musical makers have run out of ideas.

But this report doesn't sound the death knell for musicals. The public will always welcome entertainment on a scale of "Oklahoma!" "The King and I," "My Fair Lady," "An American in Paris" and "Music Man."

Students Study TV Program Bold Journey

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Journey (ABC-TV, Monday nights), that excellent program of travel and adventure, is going to school these days.

To mark the enthusiastic reception of the idea ABC-TV today presents a special report entitled, appropriately enough, "Bold Journey Goes to School."

There's nothing particularly formal about the plan. Last September the sponsors began sending to teachers who requested it a printed guide that describes each program and some suggested subjects for discussion.

About two million students in 50,000 classrooms are using the guides as a basis for discussing subjects related to the programs.

Dr. Irene Cypher of the Department of Communications in Education at New York University, under whose direction the guides are prepared, emphasizes that "this is not a strict school program." But "it has been a great opportunity for many to discover that study can be humanly interesting," she says.

As an example of how the plan works, take "The Flight of the Blue Bird," one of the best programs Bold Journey has done. There was distributed a printed synopsis of the film made by Neal and Linden Blue on a 110-day flight through Central and South America in a light plane. Appended were suggestions for discussion both before and after students saw the film on television.

Students are under no obligation to their teachers to view the programs at home, but teachers say they have found great spontaneous interest in the idea.

Roberto Files For Annuling Of Marriage

ROME (AP)—Roberto Rossellini has filed suit in a Rome civil court for an annulment of his marriage to Ingrid Bergman. He contends "she was not technically free" when they married.

The suit claimed the actress was "still technically married" to Dr. Peter Lindstrom when she married the Italian film director by proxy in Mexico May 24, 1950.

Fraudulent marriage is a legal ground for annulment in Italy, where divorce is not legal.

Miss Bergman received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom Feb. 9, 1950, the week after the birth of her first child by Rossellini.

The couple was legally separated here Nov. 7 after Rossellini's name was linked with that of an Indian script writer, Sonali Das Gupta. He met her while making films in India and later unfounded reports said she had come to Europe.

Both Miss Bergman, who has been making a movie in London, and Rossellini were reported now in Paris. Neither was immediately available for comment on the suit.

Rossellini's attorney Antonio Corrao said in the suit neither Italian nor Swedish law considers a Mexican divorce legal. Therefore, he contended, the actress "was not in a free status" when she married Rossellini.

Woman Guilty Of Slaying Is Found Sane

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Suzanne Elaine Soule, found sane by the same jury which convicted her of second-degree murder in the slaying of her roommate, will be sentenced Feb. 10.

Her conviction carries a five-year to life sentence. The actual term is set by the State Adult Authority.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum said at the end of the sanity trial yesterday he will recommend she be transferred from Corona State Prison for Women to a state mental hospital for extensive psychiatric treatment.

The sad-faced 20-year-old former typist from Freeport, N. Y., was convicted of the bludgeoning and stabbing of Catherine (Kit) Elvins, 19, Seattle, last July 24.

Foreman Robert J. Foster said the jury had stood at 11-1 for sanity for more than three hours.

The lone holdout, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Cavanaugh of San Bruno, said later: "There's an awfully thin line between the definitions of medical and legal sanity."

Foster said: "We thought it was an impulsive act, a crime of passion. There was definitely malice but not premeditation."

Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson, in pleading for a first-degree murder verdict which would have meant death or life imprisonment, had argued Elaine had killed in order to get possession of a check for $160 Miss Elvins had.

Defense attorneys John A. Cost and G. Brooks Ice said they were disappointed but "it was a terribly difficult decision for the jury."

Missouri CAP Ends Two-Day Meeting Here

The Missouri wing of the Civil Air Patrol concluded its two-day meeting at the Bothwell Hotel Saturday and Sunday with the selection of a Jefferson City girl cadet to attend the Congressional Dinner in Washington, D. C., and to tour that area with CAP cadets from other wings.

She is Cadet Commander 1st Lt. Theresa M. Brown of the Capital City Composite Squadron. Her expenses for the trip will be paid by the Missouri Wing. Cadet Sgt. Kay Knickerbocker of Kansas City Squadron 2 was named alternate.

She will leave Missouri March 3 and return March 6. The Congressional Dinner is attended by the President of the United States and many other high government officials. About 1,200 people usually attend the dinner.

On Sunday evening the more than 100 members attending the conference were guests at a banquet. Entertainment in the form of pantomime was provided by Jack Clark and Cadet Nancy Homan to the music of several records.

Nancy's mother, Peggie Homan, a senior CAP member, was in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Homan is also public information officer for Group 5, of which Lt. Col. Bill Padgett of Sedalia is commander. The group includes several other squadrons besides the Sedalia squadron.

At the Sunday morning session, a general assembly invocation was given by Richard Ezell, Lt. Col. Logan S. Stout, executive officer for Wing Headquarters, St. Louis, called upon each wing staff member to explain his duties and future aims.

There followed a separate meeting of group commanders, cadets and communications units, along with a combined meeting of personnel adjutants, public information officers and other branches. The meetings were question and answer sessions, centering on the problems of each squadron.

Rita Hayworth to Wed For Her Fifth Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Rita Hayworth and film producer James Hill have taken out a marriage license but plans for the wedding — her fifth, his first — still are tentative.

Hill, 41, and Miss Hayworth, 39, got the license yesterday, telling newsmen only that the ceremony would be sometime early next month.

The actress' previous husbands were oilman Ed Judson, actor-director Orson Welles, Moslem Prince Aly Khan and singer Dick Haymes.

World War I was touched off in 1914 when a Serb student assassinated Archduke Ferdinand of Austria and his wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia.

On Sunday evening the more than 100 members attending the conference were guests at a banquet. Entertainment in the form of pantomime was provided by Jack Clark and Cadet Nancy Homan to the music of several records.

Nancy's mother, Peggie Homan, a senior CAP member, was in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Homan is also public information officer for Group 5, of which Lt. Col. Bill Padgett of Sedalia is commander. The group includes several other squadrons besides the Sedalia squadron.

At the Sunday morning session, a general assembly invocation was given by Richard Ezell, Lt. Col. Logan S. Stout, executive officer for Wing Headquarters, St. Louis, called upon each wing staff member to explain his duties and future aims.

There followed a separate meeting of group commanders, cadets and communications units, along with a combined meeting of personnel adjutants, public information officers and other branches. The meetings were question and answer sessions, centering on the problems of each squadron.

Off-Broadway Guide

NEW YORK (AP) — The growing boom in off-Broadway theatrical activities has prompted the American National Theatre and Academy to issue a guidebook on the subject.

The book, "How to Organize an Off - Broadway Theatre Group" was compiled by Ira J. Bilowit and takes up such problems as finding space for staging experimental productions, complying with building regulations, getting publicity and keeping finances balanced.

New Year Prayer High

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—"There's more praying on New Year's Eve than at any time of the year," says the Rev. Dr. Thomas A. Caruth, director of a Methodist worldwide prayer movement, who has made a special study of prayer habits. "New Year's Eve is a natural for prayer," he said. "People are starting out, not only on a new year, but many of them—they hope—on a new life."

His Name Is Ojeda

Venezuelans Hear Leader's Identity Over Radio Nacional

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At dawn last Thursday morning a new voice was heard from the Venezuelan government's Radio Nacional.

"My name is Fabricio Ojeda," said the voice. "I am the president of the Patriotic Junta."

For the first time the people of Venezuela learned the identity of the man who led civilian forces in the revolution that toppled the dictatorship of President Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The name meant nothing to all most all who heard it. Perhaps a few recalled that a man by that name was a reporter for the newspaper El Nacional.

Ojeda, 31-year-old reporter and former grade school teacher, was revealed after the downfall of Perez Jimenez to be the leader of an underground organization which carried on a long struggle in the greatest secrecy.

The shock of learning that Ojeda was an underground leader must have been greatest for the ousted head of the national security (secret) police, Pedro Estrada, and his superior, ex-Interior Minister Laureano Vallenilla Lanz.

As a reporter Ojeda was assigned to cover the Ministry of Interior. Almost daily he saw the minister and the head of the feared and hated secret police.

The Patriotic Junta consisted of representatives of three parties. Ojeda represented the Republican Democratic Union party. The others represented the Communist and the Christian Democratic party known as Copei.

Ojeda was known to his two co-workers on the junta but few others in the underground organization were aware that he was the top leader.

Ojeda (pronounced O-hay-dah) is a slight man with light brown hair, married and the father of four children.

Born of poor parents, Ojeda never got beyond high school but he became a schoolteacher. He first broke into politics as an organizer for the newly born Republican Democratic Union (URD) in 1946.

He was a member of the secretariat of the party's youth movement and took an active part in the campaign to elect a national constituent assembly in 1952. He was too young to be a candidate for the Assembly.

The Perez Jimenez regime was so confident it would win that election that it permitted the count of votes to be broadcast as the total was compiled. But when the count showed the URD winning by a big majority, the radio announcements suddenly stopped. When they were resumed several hours later, the trend of the vote was reported to be just the opposite—with the government candidates far out in front.

Apparently angered and afraid of the URD strength and his own unpopularity with the masses, Perez Jimenez exiled URD leader Jovito Villalba and cracked down on his leading followers. Ojeda was one of those thrown into prison in Maturin. After his release he went to Caracas and was hired by El Nacional.

Ojeda is a restless young man bursting with energy. He is rated a good newspaper reporter and as a public speaker is several cuts above the average politician.

Persons who know him well say Ojeda has the makings of a strong political leader. His old boss, Dr. Villalba, says that Ojeda no doubt will play a big role in the "construction of a new Venezuela" through the party.
